TOTAL	$374,400.00

The Court further finds and orders that the award of Future Damages is subject, pursuant to the request of Defendant Overturf Drug Stores, Inc., to Section 538.220 of the Missouri Revised Statutes.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that Plaintiff [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] have and recover of defendant Overturf Drug Stores, Inc. the sum of $176,800.00 for past damages together with plaintiff's costs of this proceeding, with post-judgment interest to run from this date at the rate of 4%, and execution to issue therefore.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED AND ADJUDGED, pursuant to Section 538.220 of the Missouri Revised Statutes that the payment of Future Damages, including those for future medical damages, shall be paid as follows:

Future Non Economic Damages of $31,200.00 shall be paid as follows:

Initial payment, due upon entry of this judgment, of $15,600.00, then two additional annual payments of $7,800.00 shall be paid on the anniversary of the entry of this Judgment in the years of 2011 and 2012.

Future Medical Damages of $166,400.00 shall be paid over six yearly periods, (based on the life expectancy of Plaintiff [REDACTED] [REDACTED]). The initial payment shall be for $26,400.00 and then the final five payments, of $28,000.00, shall be paid yearly on the anniversary of the entry of this Judgment.

Said damages and future payments, as set forth in Section 538.220, are subject to a per annum interest rate no greater than the coupon issue yield equivalent, as determined by the Federal Reserve Board, of the average accepted auction price for the last auction of fifty-two-week United States Treasury bills settled immediately prior to the date of the judgment. Therefore, this Court shall set the applicable interest rate on these future damages at 3.25 .

Further, Section 538.220, provides and therefore it is hereby ordered that upon the death of [REDACTED], the right to receive payments of future damages, other than future medical damages, being paid by installments or periodic payments will pass in accordance with the Missouri probate code unless otherwise transferred or alienated prior to death. Payment of future medical damages will continue to the estate of the judgment creditor only for as long as necessary to enable the estate to satisfy medical expenses of the judgment creditor that were due and owing at the time of death, which resulted directly from the injury for which damages were awarded, and do not exceed the dollar amount of the total payments for such future medical damages outstanding at the time of death.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED AND ADJUDGED Count III of the crossclaim is rendered moot and is hereby dismissed.

DATED 6-04-10

David A. Dolan, Presiding Judge
33rd Judicial Circuit
